

ANYONE CAN BE A HERO

You can be a hero, you can be a dagger

You can be a savior or the other

It's in your hands so just step up

There's nothing to be afraid of

So, what are you waiting for

Act now and save us from all the gore

I know it's simple just to say

But all you have to do is think of it this way

Because every night someone lies in bed

They think of what they could've said

To be a hero

You think you need to be superman

That heroes are around us

But the truth is anyone can be a hero

They're not just around us

So just don't leave it in somebody else's hands

Because today you can be a hero around us
